

Images of Souls

An encounter between Hilma af Klint and Carl Gustav Jung

Föreläsning med Monica Andriago Coelho med inledning av Johan af Klint

Arrangör: Jungvännerna i Stockholm

Ur föreläsarens beskrivning:

The images created by af Klint, Jung and his patients are essentially psychic, imaginal and numinous. The production of these images come from access to different states of human consciousness (be they through mediumship, through the dream state or through the practice of active imagination). Therefore, the similarities between af Klint's work, Jung's images and those of his patients allow for such rich reflection on the soul, the psyche, the Self, the symbol, the image, human imagination, creativity, myths, art and the numinous as inexhaustible sources for generating meanings, significances, pathways and developments with transformative effects on an individual level and for humanity over time. In these three sources, we find magical images of extreme wealth, beauty and depth that takes us to states of elevation and spiritual rebirth, as well as to an amplification of human consciousness. They are images that reflect the feeling of an era, that can finally be assimilated also as messages for the contemporary world, which ultimately seems to be experiencing similar sentiments.
